Conditional Registration

Dear Ms. Anastasiou:

Effective May 15, 2018, the Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR) conditionally registered the above product(s). DPR granted the conditional registration(s) pursuant to Title 3 of the California Code of Regulations section 6200, and contingent upon the following condition(s).

On or before November 14, 2019, DPR must receive the following:

1. One-year storage or an accelerated storage stability and corrosion characteristics study conducted with the product contained in commercial packaging or in similar packages of the same material and stored under warehouse conditions.

If you fail to comply with the condition(s), DPR will inactivate the registration of the product(s). Enclosed you will find a certificate of registration (license) and a stamp-accepted copy of the label(s). When responding, please include in your cover letter the product brand name(s), EPA Registration Number(s), and DPR tracking identification number (ID#) listed in the upper right corner of this letter.

If a conditional registration extends over January 1, registrants must submit an annual progress report along with its renewal application in accordance with Title 3 of the California Code of Regulations section 6200(h). If you fail to submit an annual report, DPR may inactivate the product registration(s). An annual progress report is not required if DPR received data or other information addressing all conditions.
